

Archedomi Disclaimer

Last updated October 7 2026

This Disclaimer explains the nature and limits of the information, education, coaching, and spiritual-development materials offered through Archedomi.com and related Archedomi offerings.

Professional Status and Licensure

Boston Carter, Ph.D. holds an academic doctoral degree in psychology. Boston Carter is not licensed as a psychologist, psychotherapist, therapist, counselor, mental-health practitioner, medical provider, or other clinician and does not claim or represent otherwise.

The use of the credential Ph.D. refers to academic education and does not indicate clinical licensure, authorization to practice psychology, or status as a licensed health-care provider.

The use of terms such as psychological framework, psyche, archetype, instinct, consciousness, perception, pattern, or transformation describes the subject matter and language of Archedomi. It does not mean that Archedomi provides clinical psychology, psychotherapy, counseling, diagnosis, or treatment.

Nature of Archedomi

Archedomi® is a psychological framework and spiritual path offered for education, personal development, self-reflection, and spiritual exploration. Archedomi books, courses, coaching, presentations, exercises, and website materials are not clinical services and do not establish a therapist-client, psychologist-client, physician-patient, counselor-client, or other licensed professional relationship.

Coaching or educational conversations may address recurring experiences, perceptions, choices, relationships, personal meaning, instinct, consciousness, or spiritual development. They are not assessments of mental illness and are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any medical or mental-health condition.

Not Medical or Mental Health Advice

Nothing on this website or in an Archedomi offering is medical advice, mental-health advice, psychological treatment, psychotherapy, crisis care, or a substitute for services from a qualified licensed professional.

Do not disregard, delay, or discontinue professional medical or mental-health care because of something presented through Archedomi. Questions about a medical condition, mental-health concern, medication, diagnosis, or treatment should be directed to an appropriately licensed professional.

Spiritual Intuitive and Theoretical Perspectives

Archedomi may include spiritual, intuitive, symbolic, archetypal, philosophical, or theoretical perspectives. These perspectives are offered as frameworks for reflection and personal exploration. They are not presented as medical facts, clinical findings, scientific diagnoses, or universally proven conclusions.

Each person is responsible for evaluating these perspectives and deciding whether they are appropriate for personal use.

Personal Responsibility

You remain responsible for your own choices, actions, wellbeing, relationships, and decisions. Use your own judgment and seek qualified professional guidance when circumstances require medical, psychological, legal, financial, or other licensed expertise.

Participation in Archedomi does not require you to accept any interpretation, belief, spiritual perspective, or recommendation. You may stop using the website, materials, coaching, course, or exercise at any time.

No Guaranteed Outcomes

Individual experiences and outcomes vary. Archedomi and Boston Carter make no guarantee that use of the website, books, courses, coaching, exercises, or other materials will produce a particular emotional, spiritual, relational, professional, financial, medical, psychological, or personal-development result.

Testimonials, examples, case descriptions, or accounts of individual experiences, if used, are illustrative only and do not promise that another person will receive the same outcome.

Emergency and Crisis Situations

Archedomi does not provide emergency or crisis services. Do not use the website, contact form, email, coaching, or course communication to request emergency assistance.

If you believe you or another person may be in immediate danger or experiencing a medical or mental-health emergency, contact local emergency services or an appropriate crisis resource immediately.

External Information and Links

The website may refer or link to books, research, organizations, retailers, service providers, or other external resources. A reference or link does not guarantee the accuracy, safety, availability, or suitability of third-party information or services and does not necessarily constitute endorsement.

Relationship to Other Website Policies

This Disclaimer should be read together with the Archedomi Terms of Use and Privacy Policy. If a separate written agreement applies to a particular course, coaching engagement, event, or other service, that agreement may contain additional terms and disclosures.
